

THE PUBLIC HIGHWAY

All sorts of schemes to erect objectionable advertising features along our beautiful picturesque highways are now being sold or at least—smooth-talking salesmen are in this territory trying to "SELL". It is to be regretted that property owners along the highways do not insist upon protecting our natural beauties, but instead sell for a year the right to build cheap looking objects to obstruct the view and mar the beauties. There should be organized at once among the Hotel men and Public Spirited Citizens for the purpose of removing much of the clutter along the State Highway scenery. The property owners must be educated and induced to aid in the movement. Don't fall into the plea made by these Salesmen travelling from one State to Another.

Attachment on Pageant Funds Dissolved By Agreement of Parties Concerned

The suit brought against the city and the attachment of the Pageant funds to the amount of $5000 brought by Attorney Samuel W. Emery on behalf of James H. Rutledge, has been withdrawn. The writs in this matter were served on Tuesday, Aug. 21 by Deputy Sheriff Philbrick on city treasurer Charles R. Kimball and the funds

SKYLIGHT ROBBERS GET $100,000

(By Associated Press)
New York, Aug. 29.—Skylight robbers got possession of $100,000 in cash and jewels, was reported today by dwellers in upper west side apartments upon returning home after a summer out of town. All the robbers are said to have been committed by one gang.

MAINE SUMMER HOTEL PARTIALLY DESTROYED

(By Associated Press)
North Bridgeton, Me., Aug. 29.—Long Lake Inn, near the shore of Long Point here, was partially destroyed by fire at midnight. The guests from many parts of the country escaped without injury, but lost half of their personal belongings. The loss was estimated at $20,000.

MRS. LEEDS AT POINT OF DEATH

IRISH FREE STATE VICTORY COMPLETE

GERMANY HEADED FOR REVOLUTION WITHIN 2 MONTHS

(By Associated Press)
New York, Aug. 29.—Germany will be in the throes of a revolution within three months, is the opinion of Dr.

Beil, president of St. Stephens college of New York. "Sixty or ninety days from now," said Dr. Beil, "there will be a big revolution in Germany."

Only Three Republicans Elected and Victory for Free State Leaders Grow

(By Associated Press)
London, Aug. 29.—Early returns this morning from the Irish election indicated a sweeping victory of the Free State leaders. Up to this morning the election of only three republicans was assured. The government so far has eighteen successful candidates to about half the number for the other parties.

TWO NAVAL DESERTERS ARRESTED

(By Associated Press)
New York, Aug. 29.—The arrest of two naval deserters was made here today. The pair wore naval uniforms when they were taken. They had completed a term of imprisonment several weeks ago for a previous desertion.

TRANSFER OF CITY WORKMEN

Several men in the street division of the Public Works were transferred today to the sewers and other branches. The change was made so as not to exceed the appropriation allowed for street work.

Next week will be a busy one with the Chautauqua sessions, the season opening in this city on Saturday afternoon.

POT OF GOLD ONLY A MYTH

Washington, Aug. 29.—The pot of gold reported found at Hagerstown, Md., has gone into the realm of mythology so far as government investigations are concerned. No money, not even the gold reputed to have been seen by other workmen, was dug up, according to William J. Burns, chief of the department of Justice Bureau. His agents returning today from Hagerstown after a two-day investigation reported that the whole story was a joke.

New York, Aug. 29.—Fuel Administrator Wadleigh with representatives of eleven Atlantic seaboard states, among them four governors, left New York last night to await the outcome of Gov. Pinchot's conference at Harrisburg with operators and union leaders. "The next thing on the program," said Mr. Wadleigh, after the conference adjourned, "is to wait and see if there is a strike. If the need arises we will start at once to put into operation our plan for maintaining rapid distribution of what anthracite coal is feasible and other substitutes to keep the people from suffering."

FIND BODY OF THREE MONTHS' CHILD IN RIVER

(By Associated Press)
New York, Aug. 29.—The body of a three months' old female child was found this morning in the Hudson river, and at first believed to have been that of Lillian McKenzie, kidnapped twelve days ago. "She is not Lillian," declared her father, Peter McKenzie, after viewing the remains.

POLICE GET TWO TRUCKS WITH LIQUOR

(By Associated Press)
Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—Two motor trucks containing 512 gallons of alcohol, valued at over $5,000, were seized by the East Boston police today. The drivers, Vincent DeMauro of East Boston and John B. Mercurio of Chelsea, were arrested for the illegal transportation of liquor. When challenged by the patrolman the drivers put on speed and escaped amid shots from his revolver. Other policemen requisitioned an automobile and held up the truckmen in a side street.

REDUCE WAGES AT LACONIA

(By Associated Press)
Laconia, N. H., Aug. 29.—Notices have been posted in the hosiery mills here to the effect that the increase in wages given to employees on May 28th of 12 1/2 per cent are to be cancelled, beginning Monday, Sept. 3. About 1300 employees are affected. Lack of business was given as the cause.

TO PLAY ON SATURDAY AT HAMPTON BEACH

Portsmouth and the beach team have won one game each and the third game in the series is likely to be a lively period. The Portsmouth outfit believe they will win the final contest.

SEEKS MORE POLICEWOMEN

London.—Having won her fight for the non-sale of alcohol to minors, Lady Astor is now urging the British government to appoint more women "policemen." Speaking recently in the House of Commons on the salaries of the metropolitan police force, she declared the present force of women was totally inadequate. Viscountess Astor said more women police were needed in London for patrol duty, and she appealed to the Home Secretary to increase their number and widen their authority.

DOUBT SANITY OF MAN IN SOMERSWORTH

Somersworth, N. H., Aug. 28.—John Papantonian, proprietor of a coffee house here, was ordered detained for an examination as to his sanity following a court hearing this morning on a charge of assault on Charles Tsikos, owner of the building in which the establishment is located. Tsikos ordered Papantonian to vacate and when the latter refused he went to the coffee house and started to remove the furnishings, whereupon Papantonian seized a horse whip and attacked the owner.

TWO ESCAPE AS TRAIN HITS AUTO

Rockland, Me., Aug. 28.—Aki Ina of 105 Tyler St., Boston, a linen salesman, raced for life with a Limerick Railroad train at the Camden street crossing today. His car was struck amidships by the locomotive and was wrecked, but Mr. Ina escaped injury by a timely jump. Miss Dorothy Green, a member of the Rockland high school basketball team, which tied Portland for the state championship, was a passenger in the motor car and remained in her seat while the locomotive pushed the machine along the track for 100 feet. She too, was uninjured; not even frightened. She said: "Mr. Ina applied the brakes when he saw the approaching train, but, finding the machine was not going to stop in time attempted to cross the track ahead of the locomotive." Scores of spectators witnessed the dramatic event.

BODY FOUND IN THE HUDSON NOT KIDNAPPED CHILD

(By Associated Press)
New York, Aug. 29.—The police, who for twelve days have been seeking three months' old Lillian McKenzie, kidnapped in front of a store, today thought they had come to the end of their trail when they found in the waters of the Hudson river the body of an infant floating. Peter McKenzie, after having satisfied them that it was not the body of his daughter, had the detectives take up the search anew. The body was taken to the police station and the father hastily summoned. He took one look and said it was not Lillian, but the police were not satisfied and sent for Mrs. McKenzie. She was spared the ordeal of viewing the remains when further examination convinced the police that they had come across the body of an abandoned and not a kidnapped child. Although the child was about three months old and had blue eyes, examination showed that it was heavier than the sickly Lillian.

FAMED DOCTOR PROMISES EVERLASTING GIRLHOOD

London.—The rejuvenation of women as well as men, and without the aid of the beauty doctor and the dress maker, has been promised by Dr. Voronoff, the famous monkey gland expert. Dr. Voronoff explained during the recent International Surgical Congress that he was making experiments at the present time, and expected to be able to announce the secret of everlasting girlhood about November.

The announcement that he expected to make grandmothers into debutantes caused a sensation among the delegates, and many of them were frank in saying that they believed it utterly impossible. In fact some of them said he ought not to do it, one prominent social worker of London declaring:

"What the doctors should do is to find some means of preserving the strength of women of seventy, so that they could give the benefit of their ripe experience to those in need of it."

"Women who have grown old naturally prefer nature to take its own course. There are women who would give anything to have their lost beauty and youth restored, but they are of the selfish type."

Dr. Voronoff refuses to discuss the subject further other than to say he has progressed to the extent that he is certain of success.

SWEDEN FACES NEED OF HELPING FARMERS

Stockholm.—A crucial problem in Sweden has arisen from the failure of agriculture to keep pace with the general recovery from post-war depression. In the effort to help the farmers to fairer profits on their labor and investments, the Riksdag and government have studied the question of restricting the imports of grain, and efficiency experts, following scientific agricultural research, have suggested ways and means of reducing the cost of production. But all this, so far, has been of little help.

The farmers are at an economic disadvantage because, while the general price index in Sweden has come down to 70 percent above the pre-war price level, the selling price for grain has been forced down to 10 percent above the pre-war level.

A crying need at present is the downward revision of wages for farm labor, which are more than 60 percent above the average for 1914.

A conference of experts has been called by the Minister of Agriculture, and it is rumored that the question of state credit has been taken up, with the idea of advancing loans to enable the farmer to hold over his grain for better prices.

"GOLD STAR" MOTHERS ARE TO CONVEY

Kansas City, Aug. 28.—Governors of every state in the Union have been asked by the Kansas City chapter of the War Mothers to seek in each state the "Gold Star" mother who made the greatest sacrifice in the World War, with a view to sending her at her state's expense to the national convention of War Mothers in Kansas City, Sept. 29 to Oct. 5, according to Mrs. Howard Boone, head of the local chapter.

"Twenty-three governors have already replied," Mrs. Boone stated. "Most have promised aid, although some of them declare selection to be a delicate task."

Mrs. Boone said that the War Mothers have decided that the extent of a mother's sacrifice, by virtue of which she should be selected, would be gauged by the number of sons or daughters who died in the service of their country in the World War.

"This might not prove a strictly accurate basis for judgment," Mrs. Boone declared, "but it is the best we could devise." Mrs. Boone lost a son in the war.

The delegates sent by the states, Mrs. Boone asserted, will be the guests here of the Kansas City chapter of War Mothers.

Among the military men of prominence who have been invited to attend the convention are General John Pershing and Admiral R. E. Connelley, chief of operations of the United States navy.

Mrs. R. E. Bigney of White Plains, N. Y., national War Mother, will address the convention.

Among other incidents in the program now in process of formation will be the dedication to Jackson County, Missouri, men who died in the war, of a huge granite boulder which will be set down amid the trees of Missouri's first "memory mile," near Kansas City.

FRANCE'S SILENT PREMIER SPENDS DAYS IN WRITING

Paris.—Premier Poincaré uses up more pens in a week than did his predecessor, Briand, in a year, a keen observer of the French foreign office said recently. The reason is that Poincaré speaks little, but writes much. Briand always had a cigarette in his hand; Poincaré always has a pen.

The present premier receives very few callers, and except for Count Peretti de la Rocca, director of the ministry, and his chief of cabinet, M. Hermitte, Poincaré sees hardly any one. He remains at his desk throughout long days—from 12 to 14 hours—writing. There is not a single document coming out of the ministry of foreign affairs, whether they be grave and solemn instructions to ambassadors or minor matters of routine business, that the premier does not see personally, and often times corrects or amplifies in his own hand.

His famous speech delivered at Senlis July 15, written entirely in that crisp, sharp handwriting which is peculiar to the premier of France, went to the government printers without a single correction or erasure.

REFORESTATION PLAN FOR GIANT REDWOODS

San Francisco.—California's giant redwoods, some of which, still standing, were saplings when the Vikings first sighted the coast of North America, and were good-sized trees when William the Conqueror's Norman hordes landed on the shores of England a thousand years ago, will have been entirely destroyed within a short time, according to the California Redwood Association here, unless measures now being undertaken for their reforestation prove successful.

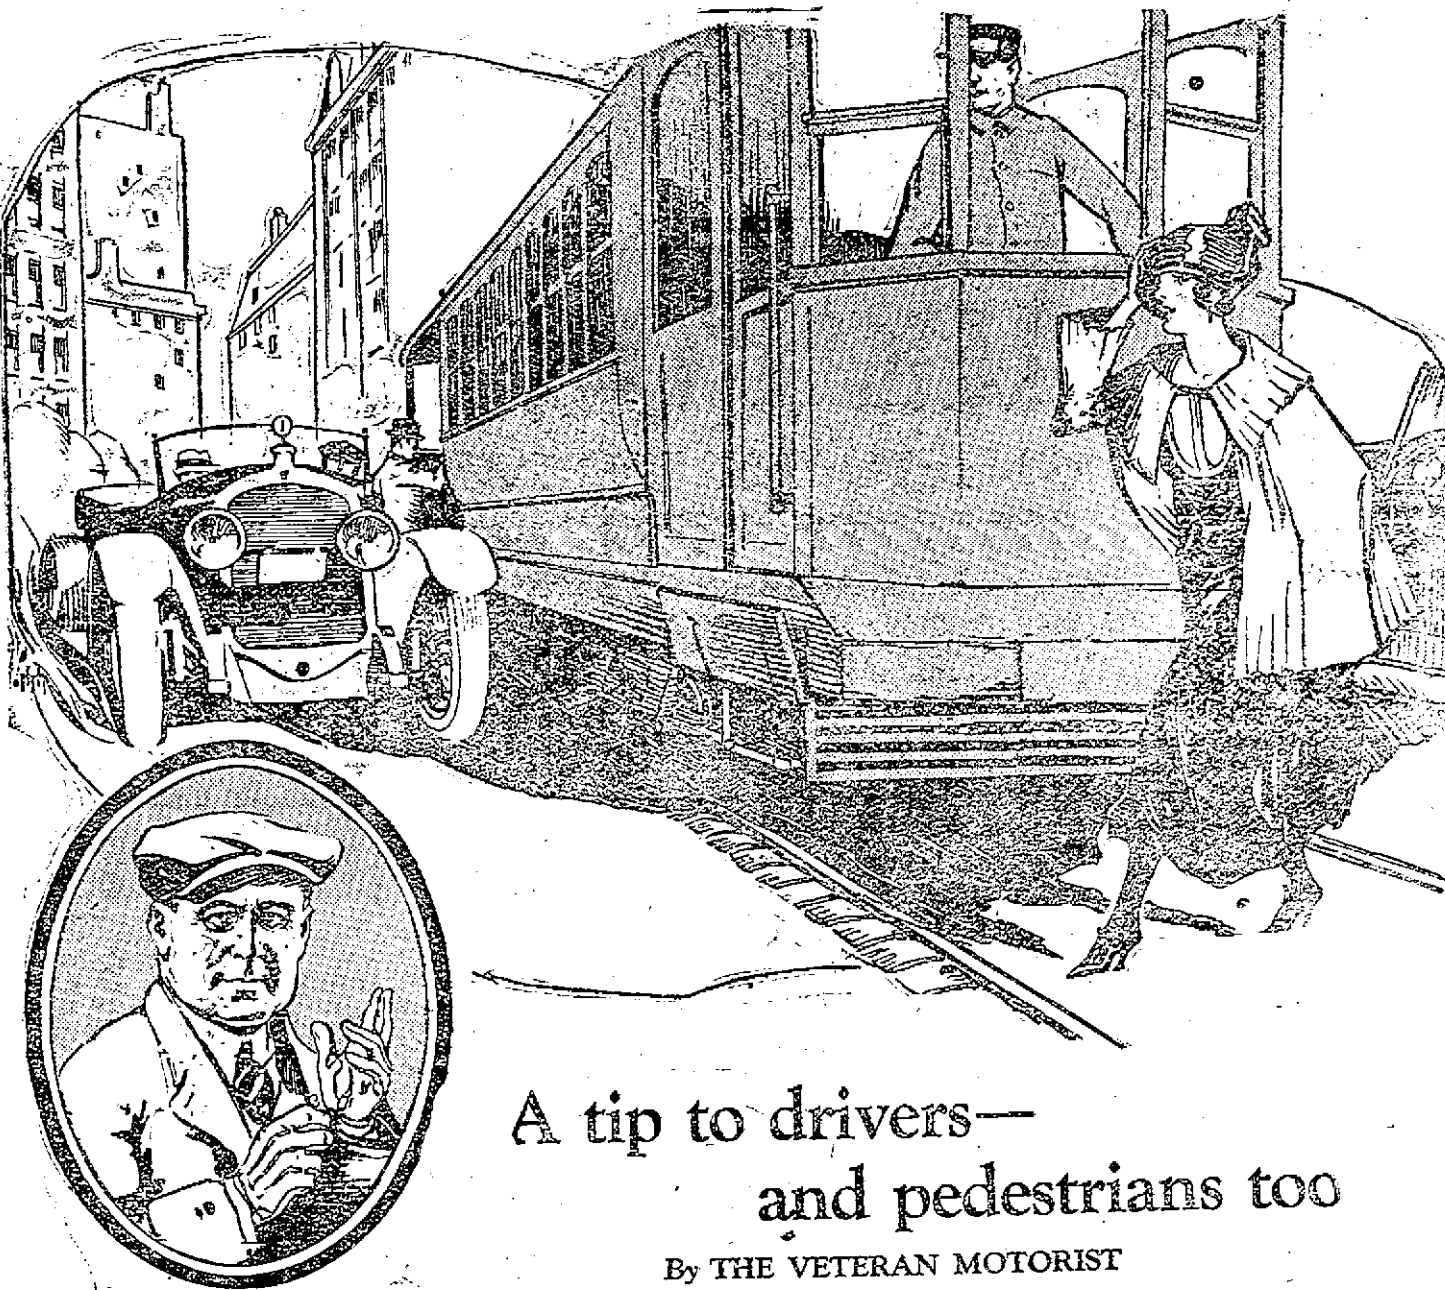

Nurseries for young redwoods have recently been established by two lumber companies in northern California. At Fort Bragg, Mendocino county, 800,000 young redwood trees are now growing from seed, a sufficient number to reforest 2,800 acres a year. Enough additional young trees to reforest 4,600 acres annually will be supplied by this company in the near future.

Another company, at Scotia, Humboldt county, has a redwood nursery of 600,000 trees, while a number of the twenty-two redwood companies in California have taken a practical interest in the reforestation.

Besides the nursery trees, about one-fifth additional second growth lumber is expected to sprout from the stumps of old trees.

General Pershing smiled and so did Marie Tiffany, the Metropolitan Opera star, when the boys at Fort McPherson demanded more songs from the charming singer. The soldiers said "Sing again" and General Pershing said "Sing again" and there was nothing left to do but sing. "Darling" was the tenth note.

A tip to drivers—
and pedestrians too

By THE VETERAN MOTORIST

I SUPPOSE it's because I've driven around so much in the last fifteen years that I've seen about twice as many accidents as the average motorist. Can't begin to remember them all, but I know a lot were connected with passing trolleys.

One special reason for this lies in the different rules and regulations that prevail in different localities. In some places you may not pass a standing trolley at all, and there the pedestrian crossing the street should be perfectly safe from automobiles, so long as the trolley remains standing. In other places motorists may pass a standing trolley "with due care" or "not less than" six or eight feet away; in these cases both driver and pedestrian ought to watch their going mighty carefully.

My best advice is to keep up to date on your own local rules about passing trolleys, etc., and follow them scrupulously. When you are away from home, and may not know all the local provisions, abide by the strictest rules for safety that you do know.

SAN BLYTHE'S ARTICLE ON MR. HARDING OUT IN BOOK FORM

President Harding did not invite the American people, with brass band and ballyhoo, to notice that he was wearing out his life in their service. He merely did the task that lay nearest him, quietly, efficiently and conscientiously. That was his great mistake. We love to see the fur fly.

And so it was that he went ahead with his tremendous task, gradually giving way beneath the strain, perhaps inwardly wounded at the persistent misunderstanding and indifference which he found in many people toward his life work. And that is why I like to think of one ray of light which brightened his last hours—yes, his last moments on this earth.

You remember that hot day early in August when Mr. Harding lay in his suite in the Palace Hotel, San Francisco. Even in the heat and weariness of the late summer afternoon the President was visibly convalescent and all the world, quickly informed by telegraph and radio bulletins, responded with glad relief to the cheerful news. At Mr. Harding's side in the early evening sat his wife, reading a friendly, sympathetic story of his stewardship—"A Calm Review of a Calm Man" by Samuel G. Blythe.

"That's good!" said the President. "Go on; read some more"—and as he said it, passed away.

It is a happy thought that this story by the greatest observer of our national scene should lighten the President's last moments. The shades were falling fast. No doubt the weary lines of pain in the President's face deepened imperceptibly as Mrs. Harding read on. But there must have been a twinkle in his eye—a kindly feeling in his breast—at the good humor and justice with which Blythe appraised him.

It is not as a politician that we think of Harding, nor as a great man, dwelling remotely from the haunts of common men in the porticos of the White House, but, as Blythe calls him, "a fine type of American," as "a human, understandable, modest, kindly man, with all the reserve force needed to govern capably." This is a kind and fitting legend for Mr. Harding's epitaph—now published in book form as a perpetual memorial, a human and an historical document forever associated in our minds with the passing of a good and greatly loved statesman.

GERMANS TAKE OVER MORE RUSSIAN LAND

Berlin.—Another agricultural concession has been taken in Russia by a German organization called the German-Russian Seed Growing Company, which will establish an experimental farm on a tract of about 20,000 acres near Moscow. This is similar to the Krupp agricultural concession in the Ukraine.

Other German interests soon will take over wood concessions covering 200,000 acres of forest near Mya-Rybinsk. Sawmills will be erected and cellulose factories operated.

TRACTORS SOLVE PLOWING PROBLEM

Minneapolis, Aug. 29.—Cultivation of peat lands in Minnesota through the medium of caterpillar tractors, an innovation in reclaiming these areas which for years were believed unfit for agriculture of any kind, has proved decidedly feasible, according to Prof. W. E. Peterson, of the Department of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, who has led a group of experimenters in this work.

The development of peat lands, also promises to be no small matter, he said, as it has been definitely shown that properly drained, cultivated and fertilized, peat lands will yield most abundant crops of tubers, roots and virtually all forage crops.

In explaining the features which make possible the use of the caterpillar tractor in cultivating this sort of land, Prof. Peterson pointed out that because of the looseness of the peat soil, it is almost impossible to use horses or tractors with ordinary width of wheels. In the caterpillar tractor the broader surfaced wheels enable the farmer to plow in a manner which leaves good furrows. The great power of the caterpillar tractor does a good job of making the furrow slice about 23 inches in width and ten inches in depth, something a low horsepower or hand machine could not do.

EXETER GETS HALEY, SCHOOL BOY PITCHER

Sensational Young Newmarket High School Twirler Enrolls at Academy

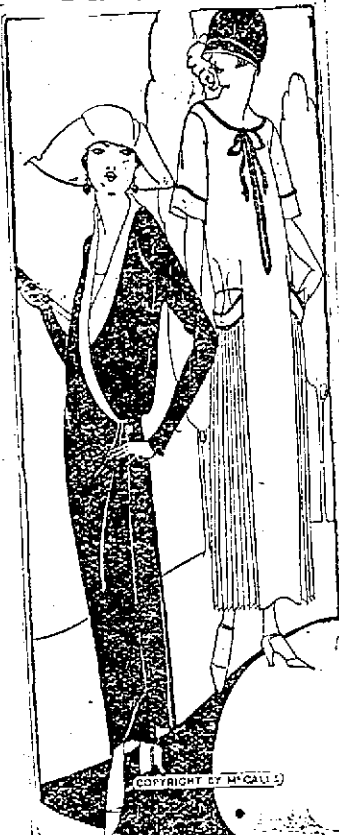

Exeter, Aug. 29.—William Haley, star pitcher on Newmarket high's champion nine last spring, is booked to enter the Phillips Exeter academy next month. He is expected to be the most promising pitcher among the incoming material, and he will be watched with interest during the fall practice by Coach Sim March, who succeeds Coach Parker this year. After a long fall drill, and winter work in the cage so should be better than his ego when he had something on all the high school pitchers of the state. He has been pitching for the Newmarket nine this summer, and has been against some of the hardest hitters of the semi-professional field, with whom he has held his own.

Haley's pitching against the high school nines of the state last spring stamped him as one of the best, and he should be a good partner for "Jeff" Sawyer, who pitched the Andover game last season. He is a husky boy, and played football on the Newmarket high eleven last fall, but he will probably devote his time to baseball this fall.

Young Haley doubtless inherits his athletic ability from his father, William P. "King" Haley, a diamond star of some 30 years ago on the old Painters' Union nine of Newmarket and Phillips Exeter short stop in the '95 nine, who played here in the days of "Jack" Scannell, another Newmarket boy of athletic fame.

Young Haley will be the first New Hampshire boy to be a candidate for pitcher in several years. It is likely that the next year's catcher will be Ambrose McLaughlin of Breton Woods, who ably filled the position last season. Exeter's last pitcher from New Hampshire was Leo Gokey of Nashua, pitcher on the 1901-1902 nine.

Fall Model

MALDEN HIGH HAS 16 IN TRAINING AT YORK BEACH

Sixteen prospective Malden High school football players are at York Beach where they are training under Coach Jack McDonald. The boys will go through setting up exercises on the beach each morning, dressed in bathing suits, and each afternoon they will play with the pigskin and, togged for the game, learn the rudiments. The squad will remain in special training a week.

Coach McDonald, manager of hotel at the beach, expects, through this innovation, to give his team start enough to have the jump on the rival teams. He intends to drill the boys in fundamentals and to have them grounded sufficiently for the beginning of serious work when school opens.

MAY MOVE GREEK CALENDAR AHEAD

New York.—First steps to have a uniform calendar throughout the world will be taken soon by the Greek church. It will change the Greek calendar to conform with the Gregorian standard. The change will take place in October. The date, however, has not been selected. Special services will mark the occasion.

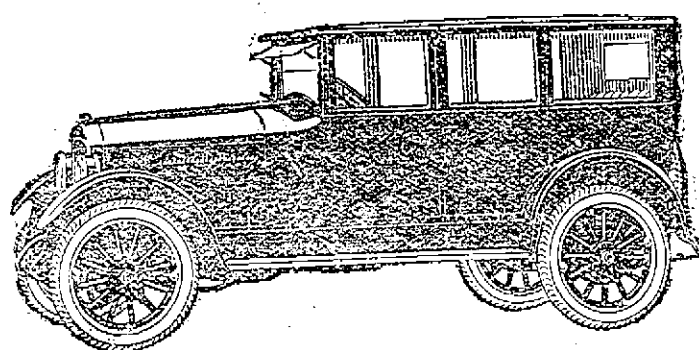

In explaining the change the Rev. M. Kouroullis, of the Greek church, said: "We have 365 days in a year, and we also have 366 days in a leap year. We are to move our calendar thirteen days ahead."

DODGE BROTHERS ANNOUNCE IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS

Dodge Brothers have not simply brought out a complete new line of motor cars. They have done something infinitely wiser and better than that.

They have brought new beauty, new riding ease and new mechanical perfection to the product on which their reputation as builders has been founded.

They have built a better and a more desirable line of motor cars—yet basically and fundamentally the identity of their product remains the same.

The same sturdy engine is under the hood; the same dependable chassis, improved in numberless details, underlies the body.

But the rear springs—now underslung—have been materially lengthened. The wheelbase, too, is longer, and the combined result is a notable improvement in riding qualities.

Bodies of all types have been designed to give improved appearance, and greater comfort. Lower, longer, with deeper seats and more leg room, the lines of these new cars are low-swung and graceful—the interiors are comfortable and roomy.

New head lamps and fenders, especially designed by Dodge Brothers to conform with the general lines of the car—a long straight hood and cowl effect—longer and wider running boards—unusually wide doors—combination stop signal and tail lamp—and instruments attractively grouped on raised panel—are a few of the numerous body innovations common to all types.

Combining these features with important mechanical improvements too numerous and technical to enumerate here, it is not extravagant to predict a reception for these cars unprecedented in automotive annals.

President Harding's Appeal to America

It is doubtful if a more poignant and powerful appeal was ever delivered to a great and generous people than that contained in the letter of President Harding to American newspaper editors through Walter Wellman, urging them to use their power against war, and made public today. The penetrating and inspiring force of the message and the accompanying talk of Mr. Harding with Mr. Wellman are enormously enhanced by the time and the circumstances of their utterance and their transmission to the Nation.

Mr. Harding's words, simple, direct, unconfused by any breath of political expediency, reveal him in the light in which his character will no doubt take its place in history—that of a generous, kindly, humane man, who grew through the revelations and teachings of events. Mr. Harding's growth in his outlook toward other nations than his own was strikingly disclosed in his speech, evidently spontaneous and prompted by the moment, on the Hoboken pier, when he said, "It must not be again." It was still further illustrated some months later when he declared that if he had ever leaned toward advocacy of American isolation, his experience in the White House, bringing its contacts with the world at large, had shown him that the policy of aloofness was impossible.

Now this latest message to the people, delivered under most impressive and solemn conditions, shows that events had led him to a great resolve, to that height of courage and self-effacement that induced him to say:

Lots of people like me, but don't like my Administration. They think me too timid to do really big things. Well, I'm going ahead in an effort to make the world safe for humanity, even if it costs me another term in the White House.

There spoke the man and not the politician, the courageous leader of a great cause, whom no consideration of self or friends could daunt and who had determined to cut himself entirely loose from all shackles of expediency.

How clearly, too, did Mr. Harding in his talk with Mr. Wellman show that he had learned to know the American people, as Lincoln and Roosevelt had done before him. This insight is disclosed in these words:

Our people have never really thought on this matter, and when they do really think of it they will land with all their hearts and souls in the right place.

Then he quoted the words of Roosevelt: "When you once get the American people to think, and think hard—well, you'd better stand from under."

[There have been many evidences that the American people were beginning to think on their true self-interest, their duties and their obligations in their relations with the other peoples of the world. President Harding's appeal will make them think harder and faster and land them sooner in the right place. It is to be hoped, too, that his words will have a salutary effect on men and interests who have done their best to mislead and confuse the people in the past.]

Congress and The Budget

A prominent Democratic paper defies the Constitution and displays its ignorance of current history by declaring that if Congress will not surrender its right to determine what appropriations shall be made, the Budget Bureau's work is of no value. This is an assumption that Congress can surrender its power over appropriations, and also that Congress makes appropriations, in excess of what the Budget Bureau recommends. [Both assumptions are false.]

The Constitution expressly provides that no money shall be laid out of the treasury except in pursuance of appropriations made by Congress and in the case of appropriations for the support of the army and navy these appropriations are limited to two years. In the effort to keep expenditures down, the framers of the Constitution further vested in the House alone the power to initiate revenue legislation—taxation being necessary incident to expenditures. Congress could not, if it would, abdicate its power to make appropriations. The President has the power to veto any appropriation Congress makes, but he cannot himself appropriate money that Congress sees fit to refuse. Moreover, the administrative departments have the power to save a part of an appropriation, for Congress usually provides that "not to exceed" the specified amount shall be expended.

But our Democratic contemporary ignores the facts and conveys a false impression when it intimates that heavy expenditures may result from Congress failing to turn over to the Budget Bureau its appropriating power. As a matter of fact, Congress has appropriated less money than the Budget Bureau has recommended. The decrease was very slight, which shows how closely in harmony the administrative and legislative branches of the government have been working under the Republican regime. Congress increased some appropriations over the amount recommended by the Bureau, and decreased others, the net result being a decrease of about one per cent.

These are facts with regard to the relations between Congress and the Budget Bureau, and nothing is to be gained by misrepresentation on the part of Democratic papers.

DECLARE CROPS MUST BE SAVED FROM DISTILLERS

Berlin.—German professors of hygiene have criticized the increase of alcoholism in Germany in a memorial addressed to the various governments urging that further steps be taken to conserve the national foodstuffs now used in making liquor, and to protect public health against the increasing consumption of alcohol.

Dr. I. A. H. Selter, director of the Hygienic Institute of the University of Königsberg, issued the memorial on behalf of the Society of German Professors of Hygiene. The document suggests an absolute prohibition of the use of foodstuffs, especially grain, potatoes and sugar, in the manufacture of alcoholic liquors.

"It cannot be contested," the memorial says, "that the production of alcohol deprives the German people of great quantities of foodstuffs. But it is not this fact alone which causes us to raise a voice of warning. We know by experience that manure fosters alcoholism, and that, on the other hand, increasing alcoholism has a double effect on underfed people. We therefore ask the government to control, with all means at its disposal, the increasing consumption of alcohol. By this means the collapse of feeding can be prevented."

Dr. Selter produces Prussian statistics to show that the use of alcohol is on the increase.

Shortly after the publication of this memorial, it was announced that the producers of alcoholic spirits in Germany had decided to stop using potatoes in their distilleries, and would at once turn over to the food markets all existing supplies.

WON'T CUT ARMY & NAVY APPROPRIATIONS

Washington, Aug. 28.—Pacificists who have been agitating for a further reduction in the appropriations for the war and navy departments will be disappointed.

While the budget is not in final form it was learned today that appropriations which will continue the two departments on their present basis will be authorized by the budget bureau and recommended to Congress with the approval of the President.

These appropriations will be for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1924.

NEWS OF THE NAVY AND NAVY YARDS

Draftsmen Resign

The following members of the drafting force of the Industrial Department have tendered their resignation: Robert H. Fowle, supervising draftsman, H. M. Ericson, ship draftsman, W. C. Chase, marine and engine draftsman. Fowle concludes his duties on Sept. 8, Ericson Sept. 13 and Chase Sept. 1.

Coming for Repairs

The submarine S-48 has been ordered to the local yard to arrive about Sept. 1 for docking, repairs and alterations.

Coming for Minor Work

Submarine S-11 is on the way from New London to the local yard for repairs to steering gear.

Back from Europe

Arthur V. Curtis, chief draftsman, who has been passing two months in Europe, sailed from England on August 19.

Bureau Men Here

Commander H. E. Saunders of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, and Commander Ernest D. McWhorter of the Bureau of Engineering, are at the local yard in conference with official heads relative to submarine construction.

Cut Out Overtime Work

The Commandant of the Charlestown yard has been notified that no more overtime work will be permitted at that station except in case of extraordinary emergency according to a department letter of Aug. 24 which revoked a previous letter of August 10.

An extraordinary emergency is defined in the circular as "one not to be foreseen in time to avoid the necessity of exceeding the limit of the fixed daily hours of labor by the employment of more men or more shifts."

Had Sub in Tow

The U. S. S. Chewink arrived at the yard this forenoon from New London towing Submarine S-11 with a defective steering gear.

Many Bidders

Among the bidders at the auction sale of surplus material held on Tuesday were men as far south as Baltimore, from the middle West as far as Indiana. Several came from New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and Portland. Local men were also numerous at the sale. Nearly $1,000,000 worth of material was disposed of.

Six on dLave

Fred Gile, wireman, Robert Bond, janitor, Samuel Osgood, officer, F. E. Davies, fireman, Ernest Safford, engineer, and Herbert Nelson, fireman, all of the yard power plant, are on leave of absence.

STRONG NAVY INDISPENSABLE

That a strong Navy is an indispensable element in the prosperity and general business welfare of the country has been a constant contention in these columns. It is gratifying to note the same thesis in a recent issue of no less an important business publication than the Chicago Commerce, the organ of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Mr. R. F. Munger, in his weekly analysis of general business, points out the danger to our export trade, and hence to our prosperity, inherent in "the movement of more than $45,000,000 (per month) in actual gold and silver into the United States, above all exports of the precious metals to any destination whatsoever." If we accumulate most of the gold in the world, the other nations will become too impoverished to buy our surplus production of goods. Hence, our production will have to slow up, and millions of people will be thrown out of work.

Mr. Munger goes on to say that "our banking position is not a matter which can be solved by joining the League of Nations, or avoided by refusal to join. The only way we can avoid having the gold of the world thrust upon us, to the detriment of our export trade, is by making private investments in foreign countries... But if the United States is to undertake world banking with any prospect save that of loss and national humiliation the step must be preceded by a spiritual and political housecleaning. The presence of force, plus fairness, self-restraint and justice, is a prerequisite to success in international commercial dealing. Our business men have a right to expect of our government in even justice and an unwavering insistence on the rights of its people."

In foreign commerce the need of "the presence of force" and of our government's "unwavering insistence on the rights of the people" cannot be fulfilled without a strong Navy. The influence of force cannot be exerted overseas in any other manner.

Navy and Commerce

We have had a recent illustration of the peace value of the Navy in promoting the business welfare of the nation. In the Near East an American admiral, acting in the diplomatic status of High Commissioner, and assisted by the continued presence of a strong naval force for several years, has brought about a great diplomatic victory in the interest of American business. The rich Near East market is now open to us, and it will remain open as long as we back up the diplomatic and commercial efforts by the influence of strong naval forces.

Through the instrumentality of naval missions to Brazil and Peru our Navy is also exerting an important influence upon American commerce in South America. Our trade in that immense market is greatly assisted by the comparative proximity of our fleet and its base at Panama. The situation would be materially improved by the establishment of a major naval base in the eastern Caribbean.

WOMAN PHYSICIAN GETS N. H. LICENSE

Concord, Aug. 29.—Dr. Anna B. Parker of New London was granted a license to practice medicine in New Hampshire yesterday by the state board of registration in medicine, under the provisions of reciprocal agreement with other states. Dr. Parker was registered in Massachusetts and New York.

CENTRAL UNION PROTESTS

Concord, Aug. 29.—Protest has been filed by Secretary Joseph P. Melia of the Concord Central Labor Union with State Purchasing Agent William A. Stone against the purchase of bakery products from Massachusetts firms in preference to New Hampshire bakery products.

PRES. URGES ALLEGIANCE AS GOAL OF PRESS

Coolidge Tells Publishers How to Help Nation

Unflinching allegiance to the constitution and unhesitating obedience to legislative action were urged upon the press of the nation by President Coolidge in a letter to A. G. Newmyer, president of the Southern Newspapers Publishers Association, made public here today. The President's letter was in reply to one written by Newmyer, who asked the executive to send him a terse, exclusive message for the southern publishers, broadly answering the question as to how the newspapers can best serve the federal government at this time, as he was personally anxious to have the membership of the association co-operate with the administration in every manner consistent with their individual policies.

The letter to Newmyer, who also is an official of the New Orleans Item, follows:

My dear Mr. Newmyer: "Your very kind message and the general assurances which it contains of support on the part of the newspapers of your association has been received. Every newspaper can be very helpful in its support of the government, whether it be state or national. Fundamentally this means always making the authority of the law supreme. It means undivided allegiance to the constitution and unhesitating obedience to legislative action made in accordance with its provisions."

"Constructive criticism is always helpful. It keeps institutions from becoming fossilized and falling into decay. But constructive criticism does not accomplish its purpose merely by pointing out what is evil. It must not fail to direct attention, with more emphasis, to what is good. Our institutions, our social organizations, our co-economic conditions are all of a quality and quantity which are worthy of our highest admiration. I believe that it will be exceedingly helpful to public sentiment if these principles and ideals can be reiterated from time to time, joined with a reverence for religion and an aspiration for better things.

"Very truly yours,
"CALVIN COOLIDGE."

AMESBURY TAX RATE $26.20

Amesbury, Aug. 29.—The assessors have announced a tax rate of $26.20. Last year's rate was $26. Personal valuation this year is $2,364,282, that of last year being $2,314,414. The real estate valuation this year is $8,192,063, and last year $8,139,658.

BODY OF CROWLEY IS WASHED ASHORE AT HAMPTON BEACH

The body of Ambrose Crowley of Brookline who was drowned while swimming at Hampton Beach on Aug. 20, was washed ashore on Tuesday afternoon at 3:45.

It was first noticed awash in the waves by Joseph Donahue of Haverhill, Mass. He is a member of the local police force, but happened to be on duty this afternoon and was lying on the beach with Frank Nevins of Lawrence, Mass., and James Gillespie of North Andover. The three secured the body before ebb tide carried it to sea again and notified the local police department. Medical Examiner Eastman of Portsmouth and Captain Myers of the local branch of the coast guard were also informed of the discovery.

A sister, Miss Pauline Crowley, who has been staying at New Castle with her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Sylvester, since the drowning, was notified and made immediate plans for removal of the body to Brookline, Mass., where the family lives.

Crowley was drowned about 200 feet from shore despite the heroic efforts of Carl Smith of Greenfield, Mass. He was carried out by an outgoing tide. Smith succeeded in reaching the struggling man, but could not retain his grasp long enough to haul him to safety. Smith was overcome and reached shore himself with difficulty.

The drowning took place in front of Miss Anna Meagher, to whom Crowley was said to have been engaged and at whose home he was visiting. He is survived by two brothers and a sister. He was graduated from a Boston business college and had been engaged in the insurance business.

FIREMEN STILL BATTLING BLAZE

Franklin, Aug. 28.—Fire from spontaneous combustion started in the coal bin in the Syndicate Block in Franklin this afternoon. Firemen are working to extinguish the blaze. There are about 70 tons of soft coal in the bin. Five stores occupy the street floor of the three story brick block. Smoke and steam have caused some damage.

ELIOT

Eliot, Aug. 29.—The third annual reunion of the Eliot High School Alumni Association was held at Grange Hall, Eliot, on Tuesday evening. A fine banquet was served in the lower hall, and an entertainment and dance followed in the upper hall. Marden's Orchestra furnished music and David Cohen gave two violin solos in a masterly manner and received hearty applause. Miss Carpenter of Lynn, Mass., from the White Entertainment Bureau, gave readings which delighted her hearers and the affair was a delightful social event.

BAY STATE A. O. H. TO FROWN ON INTERVENTION

Worcester, Aug. 28.—The committee on resolutions of the Massachusetts A. O. H. in its biennial convention today adopted resolutions in favor of allowing the people of Ireland to settle their own political destiny and in favor of the United States maintaining its position of isolation from foreign entanglements.

THAT MARATHON RACE AND THANKS

Now that the Tercentenary Celebration is all over, with all its hard work on the part of different committees, it is very gratifying to receive compliments, especially from an unexpected source.

The following unsolicited compliment was recently received from Bill Kennedy, one of the foremost marathon runners in the country, who has probably competed in more races than any other runner who was in the local race:

Cygnat Athletic Club,
E. Port Chester, Conn.

Mr. Phil Irish,
Chairman Marathon Com.,
The Cygnat Club of this city extends its thanks to you for your treatment of its representative at your recent 12-mile race. I personally want to thank you for the fine treatment accorded me and to congratulate you for the excellent manner in which your race was handled, as I never saw a road race better policed than was yours.

Very truly,
BILL KENNEDY.

Chairman of Athletics,
Cygnat, A. C.
On the heels of the above letter comes another that tells a story of true Portsmouth spirit, in itself:

Editor of Herald:
Dear Sir—As chairman of the marathon committee for the Tercentenary, I would like, through your columns, to thank, in behalf of my committee those who were instrumental in making our road race a success.

Great credit should be given the police for their able assistance in making this the best policed race ever held and to these men we extend our thanks as a committee.

We not only appreciate but thank Mr. Morrison of the Y. M. C. A., who allowed the use of his rooms and baths for the runners.

To the American Legion for their cooperation and assistance on that day in supplying flagmen along the course.

To Chris Hartford for his services with the auto truck in transporting the men over the course.

To Harry Robinson for his much appreciated and able assistance as clerk of the course.

And to all who contributed in service or support to the success of the Marathon race, we extend our thanks.

PHIL IRISH, Chairman.

KNITTING PRIZE FOR WOMAN IN DOVER

Dover, Aug. 28.—Floriene M. Maurice, 1 Milk street, Dover, won the $100 state prize offered in the recent national knitting contest held by the Fleisher Yarn company of Philadelphia, for the most beautiful hand knit garments.

Of the thousands of garments entered by New Hampshire women, Miss Maurice's sweater was adjudged the most beautiful from this state. The second prize of $50 was awarded to Miss N. Eugenia Norton, 16 Lyman street, Laconia, who also sent in a sweater; and the third prize of $25 was won by Mrs. John Stanley, "Hillcrest," Laconia. Her prize winning entry was a sweater.

DIGS UP LIQUOR LOST BY HIS PAL 30 YEARS AGO

Brattleboro, Vt., Aug. 29.—Daniel V. Manning, a town laborer, while digging a ditch on Union street yesterday, uncovered an object that glistened in the sunlight, and when the dirt was poked away, a pint bottle partly full of liquor, "three or four drinks," as Manning says, was revealed. He recalled that 30 years ago while he was digging in the same place on Union street, one of the men working with him had a pint on his hip and after a part of it was consumed, the bottle with the remainder was lost.

MARCINO WILLING TO STAND TRIAL

Laredo, Tex., Aug. 28.—Joseph Blata, alias Joseph Marcino, wanted in Chicago and Warren, Mass., in connection with alleged irregularities in his former banking affairs, declared in county jail here today that he was not "afraid to stand trial," and that he would be able to show there was a conspiracy to make him the "goat." He is held in default of $100,000 bail.

Blata said his wife is in Mexico City, where he claims to have been in business. He said the Mexicans taxed him so heavily that he finally surrendered and was brought to the border yesterday and turned over to the American officers. Mexican officials, influenced by financial interests in the United States, practiced extortion on him, making it impossible to continue in several paying ventures, Blata said. He declined to discuss his escape from Warren, Mass., where he is under charges of alleged embezzlement of more than $200,000 from the First National Bank of Warren. He declared his wife would attend the trial.

PRES. WELCOMES PEACE DISCUSSION

Washington, Aug. 28.—Any discussion in the public press of a policy looking to the abolition of war will be welcomed by President Coolidge, it was said today at the White House, in connection with the recent publication of a letter by President Harding suggesting such a discussion.

Mr. Coolidge has taken much interest in the offer by Edward Bok of a prize for a successful peace plan. In July he discussed the subject with Mr. Bok in Maine.

ABLE PREACHER AT THE SOUTH CHURCH

At the South Church (Unitarian) Sunday morning the preacher will be the Rev. Frank Byron Crandall, minister of the First Unitarian Parish in Ayer, Mass. Mr. Crandall is a native of New York state, a graduate of Cornell University and the Divinity School of Harvard University. After his graduation from Cornell and before his theological studies had begun he taught French for a few years in the University of Pittsburgh. He was for a short time assistant at the Second Church, a church which has developed a rich and beautiful liturgical service. And when Mr. Crandall was called to the First Unitarian Parish in Ayer, Mass., he proceeded to reshape the service along those lines, and during his ministry the church has been remodelled to make it without and within a churchly edifice. During the war he was in close touch with the soldiers at nearby Camp Devens, and many of them attended his church.

Mr. Crandall is an intimate friend of Rev. William Safford Jones, and during his stay in Portsmouth will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jones at their residence on Mark street.

The full choir of the church will sing on Sunday. Visitors will receive a cordial welcome. The church is on State street, near the Federal Building and Rockingham Hotel.

RAILWAY MAIL ASSOCIATION HOLDS CONVENTION IN AT- LANTA, GEORGIA

Secretary Rufus E. Ross of the Railway Mail Association, left August 24th for Atlanta, Ga., to attend the biennial convention of that organization which will convene in that city the first week in September.

En route to Atlanta, Mr. Ross will address branch meetings of the Railway Mail Association to be held in Cincinnati, Ohio, Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mr. Ross was unanimously re-elected National Secretary and Treasurer of the Railway Mail Association during June.

TOLD FIREMEN HE WOULD PULL IN GENERAL ALARM

For the sixth or seventh time this summer the firemen were called to the South street dump on Tuesday night. The party sending in the still alarm over the telephone may have or may not have been excited, but he told the smokestackers at the Central Station they could show up in 15 minutes or he would pull in a general alarm.

OLIVER CUP WON BY HOVEY POST ON EXHIBITION

The Oliver Cup, donated by the National Chaplains of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and won by the Ensign Emerson Hovey Post, No. 168, of this city, is on exhibition in the window of Trotter's store on Congress street.

This cup comes to the local post for the most effective work done during Americanization week ending April 27, 1923. In order to retain the cup permanently it will have to be won three times. It was first won by the Mt. Vernon Post, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., which is shown in the inscription.

The Hovey Post has two more chances and the members believe that the organization can capture the prize on the lines it has been working and the spirit shown in "Americanization Week."

BUSY DAY IN THE HAMPTON COURT

A large grist went through the Hampton police court Monday. Joseph Pettigrew, Manchester, was fined $100 and $8.70 costs for illegal transportation; Arthur Demaras, Manchester, $100 and $8.70 for illegal possession; James Mawn and George W. Harold, Winchester, each $25 and $8.70 costs for illegal possession; William H. Holt, Rye Beach, $10 and 45¢ costs, for driving at unreasonable rate of speed; while Joan Early, Andover, and William Falons, Lawrence, who were released on $25 each bail, charged with drunkenness, failed to appear in court, and their bail was declared forfeited.

Hero and Two He Saved

W. E. Trimble, 18 (center), of New York City, swam two miles through a thunderstorm to obtain help for his camp mates when their canoe was overturned in Lake Champlain at Plattsburg. Louis G. Grinnell, 19 (left), of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Charles S. Stryker, 17 (right), of Somerset, N. J., were saved. Albert W. Kampmann, of Jersey City, N. J., was swept from the capsized canoe and drowned before rescuers arrived.

Silks for Fall

The Chinese trend is shown in interior decoration, in boots and sandals and in parasols, so why not in fabrics? There are tinselled silks, fragile as chiffon, metallic silks in jacquard patterns and cloisonne designs in light patterns on flat crepes.

MEN OF ROPER YEARS MAKE GOOD STUDENTS

Monteagle, Tenn.—In the heart of the Tennessee mountains there is a school—the Du Bose Memorial School—where the students argue over the Pauline psychology while they sew buttons on their overalls; where a man chants Latin verbs to the swish of his broom, and the engineer at the sawmill talks classic Greek with his fellow workers.

Out in the truck garden cabbages are cultivated amid discussions of secondary century heresies, and fundamentalism versus modernism is thrashed out over the milking of the cows. In one day, these students buried the baby of a broken hearted mother, having first made the coffin, wrote Greek exercises, mended a wagon, and wound up by playing a winning game of baseball.

The school is an unique institution where men, long since past school age but wishing to fit themselves for clerical orders, are trained for the ministry. They are poor men who come to this school, which is named after an Episcopal divine. There are two ex-sailors among them one or two with army experience, some clerks, mechanics and farmers.

The school is co-operative. There are no tuition fees, and every one of the students works at some occupation about the farm and industrial plant for his keep and training. Rev. W. S. Claiborne, Archdeacon of the Episcopal Diocese of Tennessee, is the director of the work, immediately supervised by Rev. M. P. Logan, D. D., the warden.

Some of the men are married. The women sew, sweep, cook, mend, tend chickens, nurse any sick and are always busy. And all agree.

There are no hard and fast rules except that of co-operation. Perhaps never was a more uncertain adventure more self-sacrificingly translated in fact. Already men have "gone out from the school and, in small spheres, become powers."

GAS WILL DECIDE WARS OF FUTURE

New York, Aug. 28. (A. P.)—While armies puff to sleep and taken prisoner in gas warfare is by no means an impossibility 25 years hence, Col. Raymond F. Bacon, chief of the Technical Division of the Chemical Warfare Service, A. E. F., says in a description of the possibilities of the future art of war made public by the American Chemical Society.

The $2,000,000 spent on the research organization did more toward winning the war, Col. Bacon asserts, than any other $200,000,000 spent in other ways. One of the greatest lessons of the war has so far gone almost unheeded, according to Col. Bacon, who continues: "To say the use of gas in warfare must be abolished is almost the same as saying that no progress must be made in the art of warfare toward making it more efficient or more humane. If one reads of the great battles of history, one will find that the victorious general conquered his enemy usually because of the fact that he so chose his position as to have his flank protected by river, mountain range or some naturally strong barrier.

Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Fullness or Pain after eating, gas, heart flutterings, are troubles that "Fruit-a-lives" corrects. This medicine, made from fruit juices and tonics, acts directly on the stomach and quickly restores sound, natural digestion.

Mrs. Frank W. Wallace, Dore's Corner, Moultonville, N.H., writes: "Although my trouble was of some years' standing, 'Fruit-a-lives' relieved me of indigestion, stopped the Headaches, banished all symptoms of Heart Trouble and gave me back my health."

"Much of the strategy of these battles consisted in maneuvering so as to obtain the advantage of position. With the use of gas it is possible to saturate a piece of ground so that no troops can cross it, and thus make an artificial barrier for the flank or protect the lines of communication. Moreover, those artificial barriers can be kept barriers for just as short a time as the strategy of the particular battle demands. These are but hints, but show the tremendous unexploited possibilities of gas in warfare."

"One can easily imagine the situation at the time the fighting was hand to hand with the spear or the sword, and gunpowder was first introduced, which in those days perhaps permitted the antagonists to fight at a range of 100 or 200 yards. There must have been a great outcry as to prohibiting the horrible new mode of warfare, and it must have been felt that it was very unfair to stand off 200 yards rather than to meet in combat man to man."

"But no one looking back on that period would attempt to say that it was possible to have stayed the hand of progress and to have prevented by any legislation or agreement the use of gunpowder in warfare. Moreover, the consensus of opinion today would be that the hand to hand fighting with spear and sword was more cruel and inhumane than the fighting with the gun and the bullet. Similarly, at the present time we cannot effectually stay the progress of science, and to attempt to do so is not only unwise but is also preventing the possibilities of a really more humane type of war."

SAYS THAT HOBOES CAN END ALL WAR

New York.—The world needs no League of Nations to obtain peace for mankind, in the opinion of James Eads How, nationally known as the "millionaire tramp." Neither, he believes, does it need a world court.

"Just leave it to the hoboes," he said, addressing the "hobo college" here. "Few know the remarkable intellectual attainments of the hobo, but I'll venture to say that if the question of world peace were left in our hands we could settle it completely in a month."

Whereupon How's auditors, assuming postures of "The Thinker," began busily scribbling in an effort to win the $100,000 peace prize.

SOUND CURRENCY DISPLACING PAPER IN RUSSIA

(By Associated Press)
Moscow.—Russia is gradually working into a new monetary system, based upon actual values in gold or negotiable securities, which promises soon to eliminate the billions of paper rubles now flooding the country.

At the present time a dual monetary system prevails, the one based upon the new standard, the other upon paper emission.

The new money, known as "cherovonetsa," the old Russian name for gold pieces, is paper currency issued by the state bank in units equal in value to ten gold rubles of the pre-war issue, and supposedly redeemable in gold upon presentation.

Silver coins, in ruble and fractional denominations, have been minted, but not yet issued. The financial authorities are awaiting the time when "cherovonetsa" are in general circulation to issue the silver money which will replace the present ruble paper as fractions of the state bank notes.

American, English, French, Dutch and other currency are now in free and general circulation in Moscow, but gradually find their way back into the state bank which, whenever possible to persuade clients to do so, pays out the "cherovonetsa" in order to accustom the people to their use. They are well made notes on excellent paper, slightly larger than American currency.

Russia today is very short of money, the circulation in "cherovonetsa" and paper rubles only slightly more than the value of two gold rubles a head of population. It is hoped to increase this gradually, but to issue very little more paper unless there is actual value, or anticipated revenues, behind it.

EFFECT OF NERVES ON HAIR

When several hair specialists were asked what was the matter with most of the heads that came under their sensitive, brainy fingers, they all said: "Nerves. Ninety per cent nerves. Too oily? Nerves. Oily at the scalp and dry and brittle at the ends? Nerves. Dry all the way? Nerves. Of course there is anemia and the ignorant care—too frequent washing, bad tonics, wrong kind of massage—and dandruff, but ninety per cent of all hair trouble is nerves."

Massage and brushing are good for every condition—but it must be intelligent massaging. Massaging with loose fingers, letting the fingers slide all over the scalp, unless lightly done, will rub off the fine or new hair, besides being a very slow way to get the blood up, and that the whole point of massage; to bring up the blood to feed and strengthen the hair. Place the cushiony base of each palm and the cushions of the fingers on the head, firmly, but not pressing too hard, and then move the scalp in a circular motion. You will soon feel the glow in your face and head. If you know anatomy, you know how to find the big blood centers that carry the main supply to the scalp and beginning below the neck, you travel up these channels with your firm, circular motion.

When your scalp feels tight and sort of thin, more like a drum than a rice, rich mother to your hair, you have headaches now and then, or when it feels fairly loose but has tight spots, it is undernourished and strained. It needs massage. You hair is like a garden; it needs good, rich soil—a fit, loose scalp—and then it has a chance to bloom radiantly and show a bit of that luster it was born with.—From the September Delinquent.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS SPLITS FACTIONS IN THE ARGENTINE

Buenos Aires, Aug. 28 (A. P.)—The question of Argentina's return to the League of Nations promises to cause a spirited political fight in the present congress before it closes in September. While the chamber recently voted to pay the League secretariat's bills for dues, decision has yet to be made whether to ratify the admission given to the League by the Yrigoyen government, and if this is done, whether Argentina should continue to remain aloof from participation in the League Assembly until that body acts favorably on the Argentine amendments making all sovereign states members of the League and "democratizing" the representation in the council.

GIVES FIVE REASONS FOR YOUTHS LOSING FIRST JOB

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Lack of a sense of responsibility, unwillingness to work hard, lack of thoroughness, false notions about salary and promotion, and lack of principle are the five chief reasons why 99 percent of the boys and girls of the United States lose their first jobs, according to a report made to the Chicago Association of Commerce by A. D. White, statistician of Swift and Company.

Mr. White's report noted that 99 percent of the boys and girls lose their first positions. The report also shows that in nine cases out of every ten, the loss of the position can be withdrawal when he was a member of the delegation, he is now, as president seeking to rectify what he believes to have been a mistaken proceeding. He wants his country to renew its relations with the League in full and be represented regularly by a delegation, which could carry on Argentina's effort to democratize the League from the inside, an aim which, enable the country to participate in the benefits of membership enjoyed by nearly all other South American nations, including Brazil and Chile.

begin at the bottom and to go through the drudgery of mastering each step before going ahead.

"The real secret of promotion lies in constantly doing more than you are paid to do. Keep yourself underpaid. As soon as you are overpaid you are bound to go backward."

"Lack of principle is shown by concealment of mistakes, untruthfulness, and the constant making of excuses."

His report continues: "Lack of a sense of responsibility is shown by neglect of work, failure to put the most important things first, and the expression of a general 'I should worry' attitude."

"Unwillingness to work hard, is shown by being late to work, stretching the lunch hour, and stealing a few minutes at the end of the day, watching the clock, and wasting the time by social conversations and telephone calls during business hours."

"Lack of thoroughness is indicated most frequently by unwillingness to

"SNIFF HOUNDS" THE LATEST SQUAD FOR HUNTING UP HOOD

Chicago.—Enter the "sniff hound" as the latest wrinkle in liquor enforcement in Chicago. The well-trained nose is all that is necessary to justify a raid on public places or private homes.

So rules the corporation counsel's office sweeping aside as unnecessary and hurling into the eternal discard the constitutional provision that the private domains of citizens shall be "secure from unlawful search and seizure."

According to the corporation counsel the search is not unlawful if the enforcement officer has a sufficiently trained sense of smell. Rendering of opinion, followed refusal of judges to recognize evidence obtained by officers who conducted raids without search warrants.

"If a search is made of a private home or dwelling without a search warrant, and if there is nothing to inform the officers through their sense of smell or sight before entering the premises that a crime is being committed, any search made would be unlawful and the property taken in such a search would have to be returned, upon application made prior to the beginning of the trial," the opinion of Corporation Counsel Veeder reads.

"In any public place of business where the general public is invited," the opinion continues, "should the officers become conscious, or have reasonable grounds to believe through their sense of sight or smell that there is liquor unlawfully secreted on the premises, the officers may search the premises and seize the liquor without a search warrant."

An officer may also enter and search a private dwelling or residence without a search warrant when and if through his sense of sight or smell he is aware or has good grounds for believing that there is a still in operation there, or that liquor is being unlawfully sold, it was indicated.

GIRL OF 15 FAILED TO END HER LIFE IN FIVE SUICIDE ATTEMPTS

Atlanta, Ga.—A pair of shoestrings, the only weapons left here, were used by pretty 15-year-old Maggie Redford, of this city, in her fifth unsuccessful attempt at suicide within twelve hours.

The sudden attack of the suicide mania resulted through mistreatment at home, Maggie told the police. "I am determined not to live any longer," she declared.

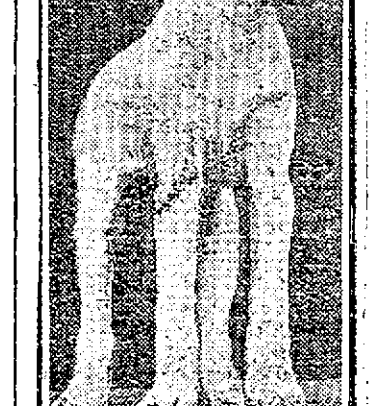

Her first attempt was an effort to jump out of the office window of the chief of police, where she had been brought following her threat to kill herself. There later followed another attempt at leaping from the window after she had been placed in charge of the chief matron. She then drew a razor from concealment and sought to slash her throat.

Her fourth attempt came after she had been removed to a juvenile detention home, where she tried to hang herself with a chain.

Following her fourth attempt she was locked in a cell at police headquarters, where she took the strings from her shoes and attempted to choke herself. As strength left her body, and air left her lungs, choking sounds issued from her throat. The matron heard the sounds and rushed to the cell.

The disheartened and lonely little girl lay back on her couch sadly disappointed, but determined, still, to end her life. A close watch was kept on her while a bit of investigation into her home life was made.

Ten Per Cent. of Funds Mobilized By American Relief Administration For Russia Went For Medical Aid

When Herbert Hoover, chairman of the American Relief Administration, announced recently that the sum mobilized for Russian Relief by the American Relief Administration and its co-operating agencies amounted to approximately $70,000,000, few persons realized that more than ten per cent. of that sum, or more than $7,000,000, was spent for medical purposes.

In the face of the terrible famine conditions which existed and the fact that it fell to the lot of the A. R. A. to provide food for upwards of two million people, the medical phase of the relief operations has not attracted the public attention that such a life-saving effort would otherwise have received. It is difficult to say whether more Russians are alive today because of American food which they received or because of the tremendous and costly fight which the American relief workers waged against the spread of infectious diseases, and the improvement in hospital and sanitary conditions which the American gifts made possible.

It is highly significant that with the inoculation and vaccination of some 7,000,000 persons in the areas where the Americans were carrying on their feeding operations there was an astonishing decrease in the high incidence of cholera, typhoid, paratyphoid and smallpox. For example, in the Kazan District where 350,000

SAYS MOVIES WILL NEED NO CENSORSHIP

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Another ten years will see the passing of the movie censor, declares Mrs. A. L. Adams, chairman of the Chicago board of motion picture censorship, who says the present day picture director and the present day star need little supervision in their art.

"It will not be long until such supervision is entirely superfluous," Mrs. Adams asserts. "Directors do not want to offend the public, and they have learned that the public wants clean pictures. Censors, however, can make few hard and fast rules. They have to judge each picture individual."

"Censorship, like the movies themselves, is undergoing an evolution. But it cannot be abolished for some time yet because people sometimes read into a picture what is not there."

There are some rules, Mrs. Adams says, which she always observes. In a flimsy encounter, hitting a man when he is down is taboo because it is unsportsmanlike. A crook cannot shoot at an officer pursuing him, lest that encourage lawlessness. Single piece bathing suits are all right, but a bathing beauty is not permitted to parade across many feet of screen.

"Virtue does not need to triumph over all difficulties, but pictures glorifying unscrupulous dealings are out," Mrs. Adams continues. "Shooting, too, is censored closely. In this respect it is believed that the movie director is improving."

"We cannot make hard and fast rules about very many things because a great deal depends on how the subject is handled," adds Mrs. Adams, "and because public morals also undergo changes. Every day we get objections from somebody who has been scandalized by a picture. Generally, however, we find on examination that these people have read something into the picture that is not there."

SUBSTANTIAL GAINS MADE BY RAILROADS

Carriers Have Prepared for Winter Fuel

The Railway Age, in an editorial in its current issue, points to the very substantial degree of progress made by the railroads under the program adopted at the meetings of the American Railway Association and of the Association of Railway Executives in New York on April 5 for meeting the heavy demands for transportation in 1923. "During the 31 weeks of 1923 from January 1 to August 4 roads have handled 28,990,341 carloads of revenue freight, as compared with 26-

June, but there has been an increase since April when the average was only 27.5 tons. The average mileage per car per day, 23.3 for June, the last month for which the statistics are available, shows an increase of 2.5 miles since January.

"The railroads also resolved to complete their storage of coal for railroad fuel use by September 1, so that date the equipment and other transportation facilities. Progress in this direction is shown by the fact that on August 1 the railroad fuel stocks amounted to 14,098,776 tons, as compared with about 7,500,000 on April 1, and 11,707,310 on August 1, last year. Of the 14,000,000 tons, over 11 1-2 million tons were held in stock piles and less than 2 1-2 million tons in cars."

United States surplus army medical supplies to the extent of $4,000,000, and medical and hospital materials costing $3,600,000 were furnished by the American Red Cross to the American Relief Administration in its effort to keep the hospitals functioning in Russia when the epidemics due to the famine were threatening to depopulate the country.

ONCE LUXURIANT CRIMEA TODAY IS HOPELESS WASTE

The Crimea, the beloved health resort of the old days and known as the "Russian Riviera," once filled with beautiful palaces and magnificent fruit gardens, lies now flowerless and ruined as a result of the civil war and last year's famine.

Many of the owners of these villas, vineyards and fruit gardens belonged to the upper classes and lived in central Russia, coming here for their relaxation. Large numbers fled the country years ago, while others having thrown in their lot with General Wrangel, became the scraggops of his acts after his defeat and paid the death penalty during the terror which followed the second occupation of the Crimea by the Bolsheviks.

The Crimea has not escaped the effects of nationalization, confiscation and requisitions, and while nominally the immense vineyards and magnificent gardens have been declared nationalized, as a matter of fact they are nobody's property. Vineyards and gardens stood unguarded for several years, with the result that everything went to the dogs. The wine-stocks dried, and a majority of the best fruit trees died. Thousands of acres of almond, apricot, peach and pear trees and vineyards are today absolutely worthless, and many a year will have to pass before they can be brought to life again.

The same is true of agriculture and industry. Despite the reconstruction work carried on by the Crimean "Independent" Soviet government, Crimean agriculture and existing minor industries are in a deplorable condition. The number of cattle has diminished by 75 percent, the total number of working horses being today only 30,000. The sowing area is only 40 percent that of 1916. This year's harvest will be very small.

Industries in the Crimea are insignificant and play an unimportant part in the economic life. They consist largely of the curing of tobacco, tanning, and preserving. They all languish. There is no market for the local salt, and Crimean wines go begging. The people are impoverished and seem content to live with sufficient food, no comforts or pleasures, and with little hope for the future.

BODY RECOVERED TODAY BY DIVER

Picked Up Within 100 Feet of the Boat
He Was Trying to Reach in Great Bay

The body of Sidney Frink who was drowned in Great Bay on Tuesday forenoon was recovered about 9:30 this forenoon by Peter Peterson, a diver for the Boston and Maine railroad who is engaged in inspecting the piling of the Portsmouth and Kittery bridge. Members of the Portsmouth Harbor coast guard crew, police and others worked until midnight under an army searchlight sent from Fort Constitution but were unable to locate the young man. The diver also worked a good part of Tuesday afternoon. The body was recovered about 100 feet away from the pleasure launch which the drowned man was attempting to reach when his canoe capsized. He went down in about 14 feet of water and must have suffered an ill turn as soon as he was tossed from the boat which prevented him from swimming or giving a call for assistance. Medical Referee, Dr. E. B. Eastman viewed the body and ordered it placed in the hands of the undertaker.

THE OPENING OF CHAUTAUQUA

The Tenth Anniversary program of the Redpath Chautauqua of New York and New England, will be given in Portsmouth on the following dates: Sept. 1st to Sept. 7th inclusive. A special effort has been made to build a program which represents the high degree of attainment of ten years of progress, a program which contains the best in lectures and in music. European problems as they affect America and the rest of the world will be discussed by D. Thomas Curtin. Great issues which now confront civilization will be most wholesomely dwelt upon by Fred B. Smith, Dean

Edward Amherst Ott, Geoffrey Morgan and Charles W. Paddock. Charles D. Isaacson will prove a splendid factor in developing a greater interest in worth while music. Constructive interpretation of life problems will be given by means of plays and operas. Mr. Geo. H. Hasseltine of White Plains, New York, will be the superintendent here. Miss Marjory Goodwin of Boston will be the Junior supervisor and will meet the children at the tent at 9:30 o'clock a. m., Sept. 1st. Miss Beryl Decker of Lincoln, Neb., has been carrying on the Advance Work here. Those wishing to secure reserve seats tickets may do so at 10:00 a. m., Sept. 1st, at the Chamber of Commerce. The tickets are $1.00 each and each person in line may buy four. The Redpath management is co-operating with the local committee in extending to you all a pleasant and profitable week.

MAKE COMPLAINT ARREST FOLLOWS

Mrs. Grace Pringle, who has been occupying a house near Whipple Cove in Kittery, was locked up in that town Tuesday night on the charge of keeping a disreputable place. A sailor from a ship at the navy yard was also taken into custody. Mrs. Pringle's place was visited by Deputy Sheriff Harry A. Roberts and Constables George E. Smart and Roy Abrams. No women were found at the house last night. The visit of the officers was the result of persons living at Whipple Cove and on Friend street making complaints that Mrs. Pringle was maintaining an objectionable resort. She and the sailor will appear in the Kittery court later, as soon as the county attorney can arrive from Sanford.

OBSEQUIES

Myrtle Elizabeth Davis
The funeral of Myrtle Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Davis, was held from the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. SURPRISE PARTY

Rye Town hall was the scene of a merry party on Tuesday evening when a farewell surprise party was given in honor of the Misses Vilda H. Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Joy of Cate street, and Thelma M. Seavey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Seavey of Rye. About 150 friends of these young ladies gathered to extend their farewell greetings.
In behalf of the Christian Endeavor Society, Christian church and Rye Grange and friends, Joseph Drake presented each of the young ladies with an exquisite bath robe, the pocket of which contained several new dollar bills and a hand painted greeting card with the following inscription:
"With colors flying
Chest up—chin in
There's no such thing
As falling to win."
Miss Joy was also the recipient of a large box of chocolates, several cash gifts and a fountain pen from the Onawa Camp Fire Girls, of which she is a member.
Both of these young ladies have been very active in church and Grange work and will be much missed from Rye. They leave to enter the Wentworth Hospital Training School for Nurses next Saturday.
Games of all sorts and general dancing made the evening pass all too quickly. Refreshments of assorted cakes and lemonade were served during the evening.
The guests left at a late hour after extending farewell greetings to Vilda and Thelma, an wishing them unbounded success in their new field of labor.
